CURRENT EVENTS

ALLEN RESIGNS — National Security Adviser Richard Allen resigned, even though cleared of wrongdoing in accepting gifts from Japanese journalists.

POPE SHOT — Pope John Paul II was seriously wounded in an assassination attempt in St. Peter's Square in Rome.

A Turkish terrorist was sentenced to life in prison for the shooting.

Wide World Photos

ROYAL WEDDING — Worldwide attention was focused on England's Prince Charles, heir to the throne, and Lady Diana Spencer, his new Princess of Wales, when they were married in a televised ceremony at St. Paul's Cathedral.

CHAMPION IN THE RING — Sugar Ray Leonard took the undisputed world welterweight championship after stopping Thomas Hearns in a 14th round TKO.

REAGANOMICS WHIZ-KID — Budget Director David Stockman, in trouble over published remarks he made that Reaganomics might not work, offered to resign but was asked to stay on.

STONES ROLL AGAIN — In their first U.S. tour since 1978, the Rolling Stones, led by 38-year-old Mick Jagger, played a 10-week concert tour that included 42 performances. It was the Rolling Stones 19th year together.

WINNINGEST COACH — Alabama football coach Bear Bryant achieved a record 315th collegiate football victory when the "Crimson Tide" defeated Penn State, making Bryant the all-time most victorious.

SINKING FEELING — Destruction occurred in drought-parched central Florida as a series of sinkholes developed. The largest, in Winter Park, swallowed cars, houses, businesses.

VIOLENCE IN IRELAND — Unrest continued in Ireland. Belfast was the center of violence as rioting tore through troubled Northern Ireland in the wake of the death of IRA hunger striker Bobby Sands. He, along with other IRA members, carried out a hunger strike protest from their jail cells.

DODGERS TAKE SERIES — After losing the first two games, the Los Angeles Dodgers came back to defeat the New York Yankees and take their first World Series title in 16 years.

JOE LOUIS DIES — Known to many as the "Brown Bomber," Joe Louis died at the age of 66. He was world heavyweight champ fighter from 1937 to 1949, and was recognized as one of the best heavyweight fighters ever.

Fashion

Designer clothes come of age

This was the year of designer clothes: jeans, shirts, jackets, socks, shorts and even hats. The top jean companies, Jordache and Calvin Klein, have tried to put their names on everything to make them sell and it has worked. Other companies have also put their names on jeans in the way of counterfeits by the millions. The biggest advertisement for designer jeans was Brooke Shields wearing Calvin Klein jeans. In the commercial, Brooke says, "Nothing comes between me and my Calvin Kleins."

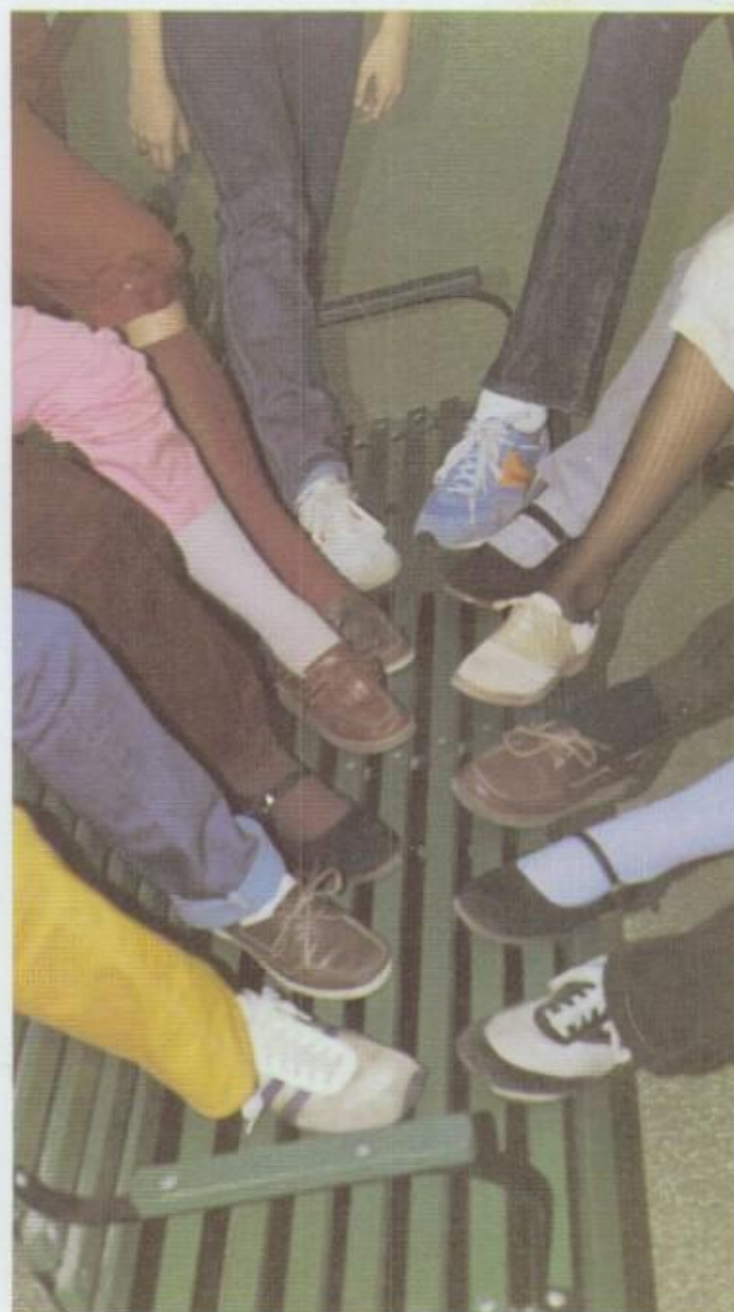

ABOVE: Jordache, a common sight throughout the school, is a current fashion that is sweeping the world.

BELOW: In the middle school, Lois Zymslo, Mary Beth Robbins, Dawn Dellinger and Tammy Graves display their knickers and colorful socks.

Leisure

Students find use for spare time

What is freetime? It is the time a person has to do what he or she truly enjoys without any deadlines to meet.

There are various things to do with one's free time. He can stay home to listen to records, tapes or a radio or watch a show on the television. If that doesn't flip one's cookie, the movies, roller skating or shopping just might.

Free time in school may be useful, also. One could give his locker a long needed cleaning, study for a test, sleep, visit a friend, or brainstorm.

Pride

Victory brightens Homecoming

Spirits soared on Homecoming night. The mighty Riders came through with a 13-8 win over Mapleton.

Spirit week psyched everyone up for the big game.

Two nights before Homecoming we were granted a dry night to have a roaring bonfire.

Pregame ceremonies featured the Homecoming attendants and their escorts as they were paraded around the football field in convertibles.

Helping

Friendly people help one another

As we grow up, we learn how important helping can be.

Here at Western Reserve, a variety of people help each other learn to become better people. Coaches, clubs, the principal, teachers and students all individually do things to help one another.

It is nice to see all the helpful things around our school. When people try to help us, we should show appreciation.

We should never be reluctant to help someone in need, because someday we may need a "helping hand" ourselves.

Spirit

Tradition boosts Rider morale

Although it was held a day early due to a scheduling conflict, the bonfire was once again the peak of spirit here at Western. Spirit week ended in confusion because of a few last minute changes in which Gangster and Beach Days were switched to Fifties and Dress-up Days. Hat & Glasses, Western, and Victory Days were also declared.

The Cheerleaders chose two senior football players each week to receive a basket of goodies. The idea behind the spirit baskets was to help boost morale.

Leaders

Faculty quotes inspire students

We've all had to memorize famous quotes, but what about all those memorable sayings we've heard each day? Well, here is a collection of them so you can look back on your high school years and treasure these quotes taken from some of your favorite teachers.

"I think not . . . detention . . . can it . . . it sounds like a personal problem to me . . . crude, rude and socially unacceptable . . . drives me wild . . . you will burn . . . for homework tonight do pages . . . master of your language."

Administration runs school

Among those people involved in the administrative area of the school are the nearly obscure board members.

Everyone is aware of the visible people—the principal, the superintendent and secretaries—but no one notices the board except for an occasional newspaper article or dress code change. Those nearly invisible members allowed, but didn't advocate mustaches, hired a contractor for roof repairs, and bought many new items, including a tuba for the band.

On the other hand, one can't forget the other administrators who carry out, watch over, and report to the board.

Workers fulfill daily duties

Everyone has contact with a janitor, cook or bus driver during the course of the day.

A custodian's work is never done, as the saying goes. The janitors, with the aid of their student helpers, keep the bathrooms clean, the hallways swept and the rooms dusted.

The cooks provide the meals each day. Often the cafeteria manager, Mrs. Thalia Grosswiler, performs extracurricular duties such as the chicken barbeque and various banquets.

Of course the bus drivers do their part. They have the responsibility of delivering students to and from school each day.

Ecstasy

Pupils enjoy assemblies

Assemblies. The good times, the fun times. The laughter and excitement. All of the things that students and faculty members look forward to can describe what this year's assemblies were all about.

With the spirit-raising pep assemblies and the rowdy performance by the rock 'n roll band Free Fare, the student body was subjected to many memorable moments filled with much enthusiasm and interest. Students were also entertained by the Student Council with its unforgettable movie "Watermelon Man," and by the teachers with their giddy antics at the "Anything Goes."

Clubs

FHA reaches toward goals

The motto for Future Homemakers of America is "Toward New Horizons," and the members are ever-reaching toward their goals.

To strengthen the function of the family as a basic unit of society, to provide opportunities for decision-making, and to assume responsibilities make up a large part of how important this organization is.

Its big money-making project was the selling of Valentine's Day candy. FHA made $120 on the project and it was donated to Columbus Children's Hospital.

Throughout the year members are on the go working toward degrees, participating in rallies and conventions, and performing community services.

FFA performs annual duties

Future Farmers of America are kept very busy around the year. They claim responsibility for such projects as keeping the school lawn mowed, putting up a snow fence during the winter, selling pop and popcorn at football and basketball games, and running the 40 acre farm on school property throughout the year.

FFA participated in a soil judging contest bringing home a fourth in the district. Entered in the Creed Speaking Contest was Roby Stone, who received a silver rating, and Scott Barnett, who received a bronze rating.

FFA also participated in a district livestock-dairy judging contest and various other invitational judgings.

Aides take on many duties

How do you label one who types, runs errands, files papers, answers phones, tracks down equipment and even performs janitorial duties just to escape a study hall? Such a person is an aide. Though the only aides who receive credit are office girls, it is possible to be an aide for almost anything or anyone.

Varsity club shows talent

Varsity Club consists of students who have excelled in any sport on the high school level. Individuals receive a varsity letter when they have played at least half of the total game time and when the discretion of the coach determines that a letter has been earned. At the end of each sports season, a banquet is held for the awarding of letters and trophies.

Club combines activities

International Club consists of members of the French and Spanish language departments. The French faction, led by Mr. Dennis Whanger, held a dinner-dance at which students danced to French music and ate French food buffet style. The Spanish group, led by Miss Pam Elder, held a skating party at which Spanish food was served.

The reason given for the combination of the two groups was to eliminate any competition between the two languages which might affect the enrollment of either department.

National Honor Society more than sign of high grades

To create an enthusiasm for scholarship, to stimulate a desire to render service, to promote worthy leadership and to encourage the development of character in all students of Western Reserve High School is the goal shared by the 50 members of National Honor Society.

Membership was based on minimum 3.0 grade averages and teacher evaluations.

Lady lifters invade weight room; group raises $300

As a general rule, one might think of a weight lifter as motivated, strong and definitely muscle-bound. But what about females? Girls made their debut in the weight room.

The weight lifters put their talents to work by putting on a lift-a-thon. Twelve lifters made $300 dollars. Money will be used for equipment.

Band performs year round

August saw band students prepare for the coming year. Members found themselves under the hot sun from 9 A.M. to 3 P.M. readying forthcoming drills. The band performed various halftime shows culminating in a show organized by ten seniors. The show consisted of a senior dance to "Hit Me with Your Best Shot" and a routine by senior flag girls.

Select band members participated in the District II Band and 19 entries competed in the Solo and Ensemble Contest.

Chorus hosts All Conference

Chorus members participated in a number of activities which included being host to Firelands Conference Chorus April 16.

Under the direction of Miss Nola Watson, the chorus performed a winter and a spring concert featuring Grammy-winning songs and Broadway show tunes. Student director Chris Harper directed one song at each concert. The chorus also performed in the Roughrider Revue talent show.

Linda Gerstenberger, Chris Harper, Connie Kovacs and Marla Smith sang vocal solos at Solo and Ensemble Contest. Accompanist Mark Graves played a piano solo.

Prom

'Ice' highlights junior-senior prom for second year

For the second straight year couples danced to the beat of "Ice" at the junior-senior prom. "Over the Rainbow" was the theme song for the prom which was held at the Cedar Point Convention Center in Sandusky. A buffet dinner was served from 6-8 p.m., and couples danced from 8-12 a.m.

As the seniors and their dates were announced, they walked down the aisle to the song, "Over the Rainbow." After-prom was held at Bonnie Lanes from 12:30-4 a.m., where couples bowled, played putt-putt golf and saw a movie.

A new tradition was started by voting on the king and queen of the prom. Tom Calhoun and Kim Brucker received this honor.

LEFT: After the buffet dinner, JoDee Palmer and Ross Welch sit one out to observe other couples.

ABOVE: "Start Me Up," a famous song by the Rolling Stones, inspires the dancing of Traci Vogt and Jim Grosswiler.

Students study homemaking

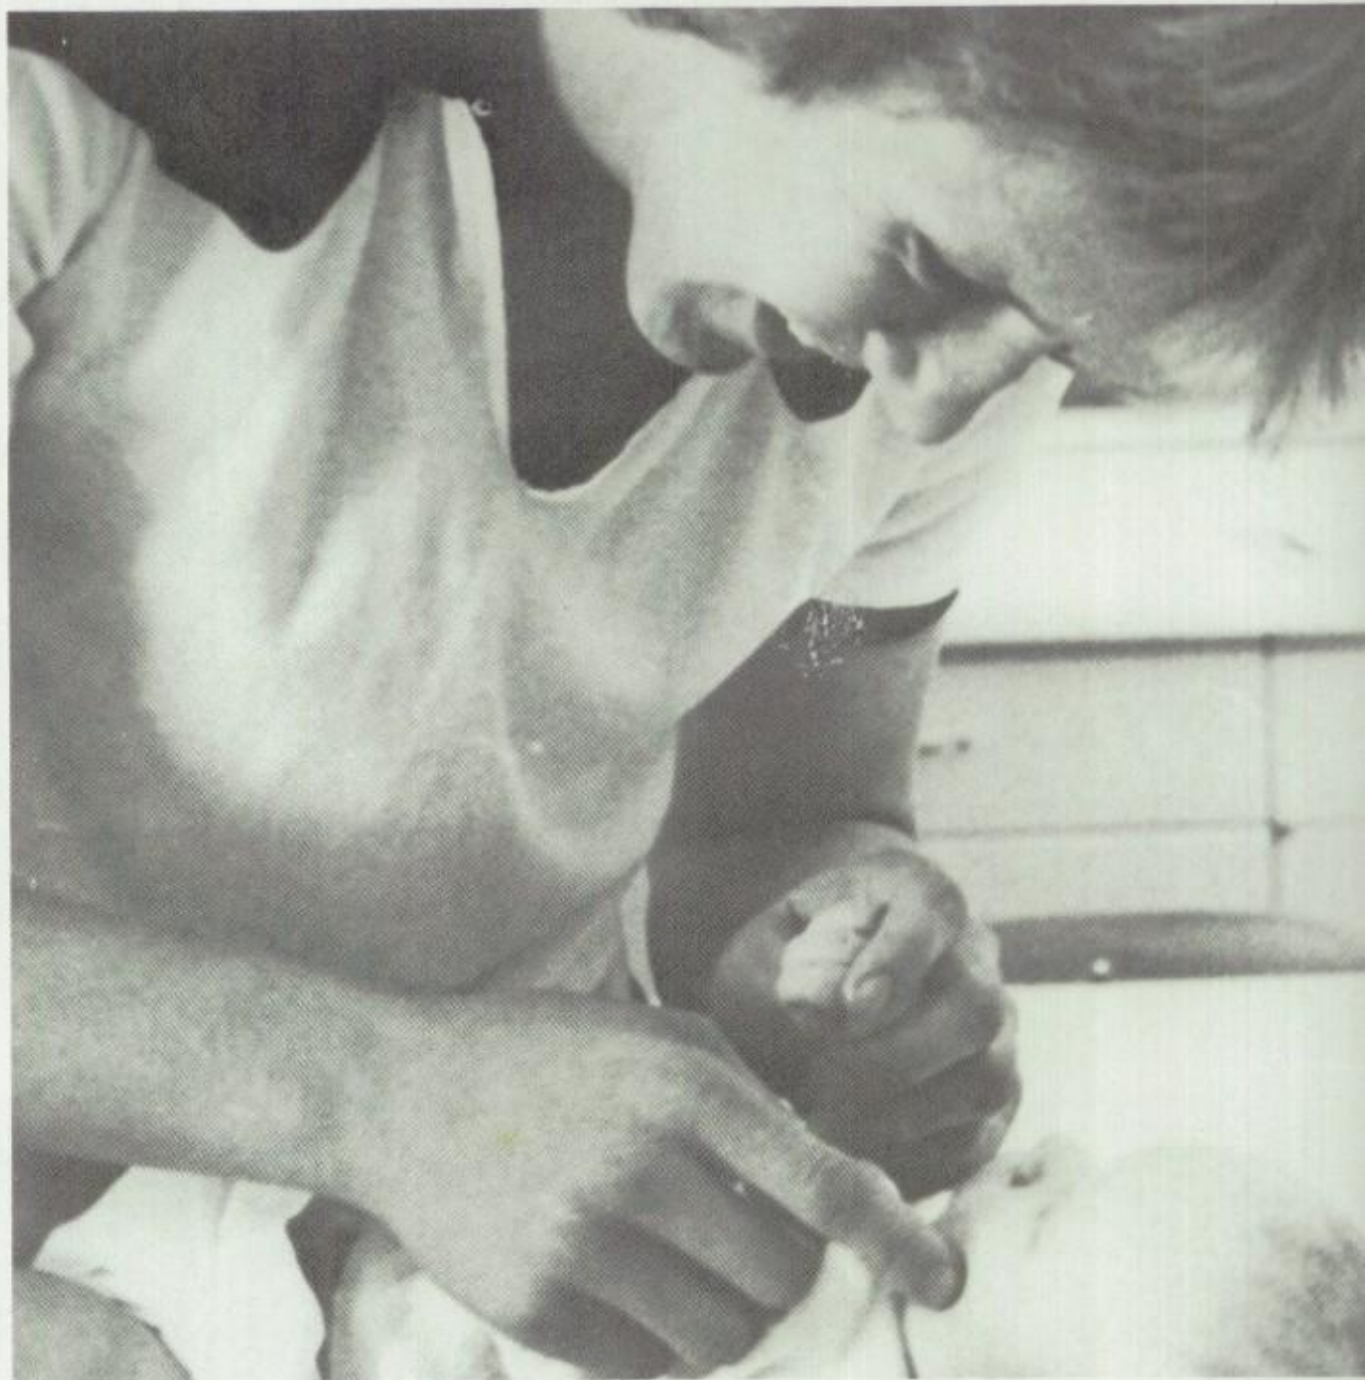

Home economics classes learned the basics of cooking, sewing, and managing homes and their lives.

Singles living class studied skills to live independently. Family living class learned the ways of family life and held a mock wedding.

Child development students were taught how to care for children. Practical foods class planned nutritious meals.

Students who took clothing construction advanced in their sewing methods. Home furnishing class refinished furniture.

Home Ec. I and II were taught methods of home management.

Yearbook staff tops ad sales

Besides searching for news, students were forced to seek sources of revenue besides advertising. For the first time in at least the past ten years, the administration denied the staff its annual "ad day." Although a record high exceeding $3,600 was eventually raised through the sale of ads, it was not enough to cover expenses. As a result the staff settled for a "no frills" yearbook, reducing pages and graphic options. The staff struggled with small fund-raisers such as sale of pictures, subscriptions, bookcovers, engraved mugs, and T-shirts; but it received a break by two new enterprises, dancercise and a Republican dinner, which together netted $760. Consequently, the staff was able to break even.

Team teaching aids students

In an effort to further enhance the education of their students, vocational agriculture teacher Bruce Thayer and industrial arts instructor Walter Koleno combined their skills to teach the vocational agriculture and industrial arts classes small engine repair.

The special projects class built a mini-barn, rabbit cages and a stereo stand. It also constructed a concrete-based table to be used for the outdoor classroom.

In vocational agriculture, students fixed an engine crane and the class's own harrowing disk. They also did some welding for various school projects.

Business courses are not just another joking matter

"You said that for a joke!" This quote may sound familiar if you took any of Mr. Jim Metz's business classes.

Typing is a very useful skill to learn. Two levels of typing courses are offered.

Consumer education teaches students how to be wise consumers whether purchasing insurance, a car or clothes. General business deals with the ideals of business, such as writing checks and balancing a check book.

From quadrasonics to working through the long book chapters, accounting can be a beneficial class in which Mr. Jim Hagemyer prepares students for college.

Students learn from Anne

Saving choking victims by using the Heimlich Maneuver was just one of many things learned in freshman health class. Instructors Mrs. Connie Giesecke and Mr. Raymond Gonter also used the Resusci Anne dummies to teach CPR and artificial respiration.

Phys. Ed. students participated in team sports such as volleyball and kickball and also individual sports such as the trampoline and badminton.

ABOVE: Freshman Chip Motolik eyes the other end of the shuffle board as Dennis Miller and Rachelle Krupp await their turns.

Students study environments

Understanding the life cycles of plants and animals was the main purpose of general science.

All types of pollutions and destruction to the environment were the main objectives of environmental studies.

Preparations for dissecting consisted of learning the body systems and their functions in the biology classes.

In chemistry and physics the goal was to learn and deal with the laws of matter in a chemical and physical environment.

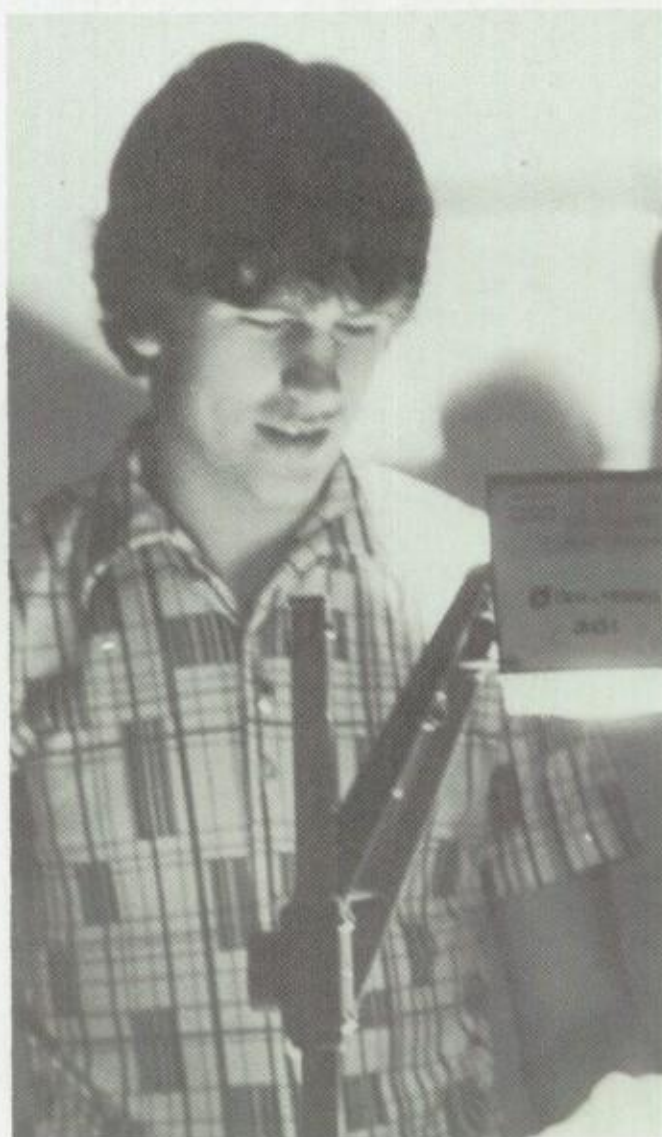

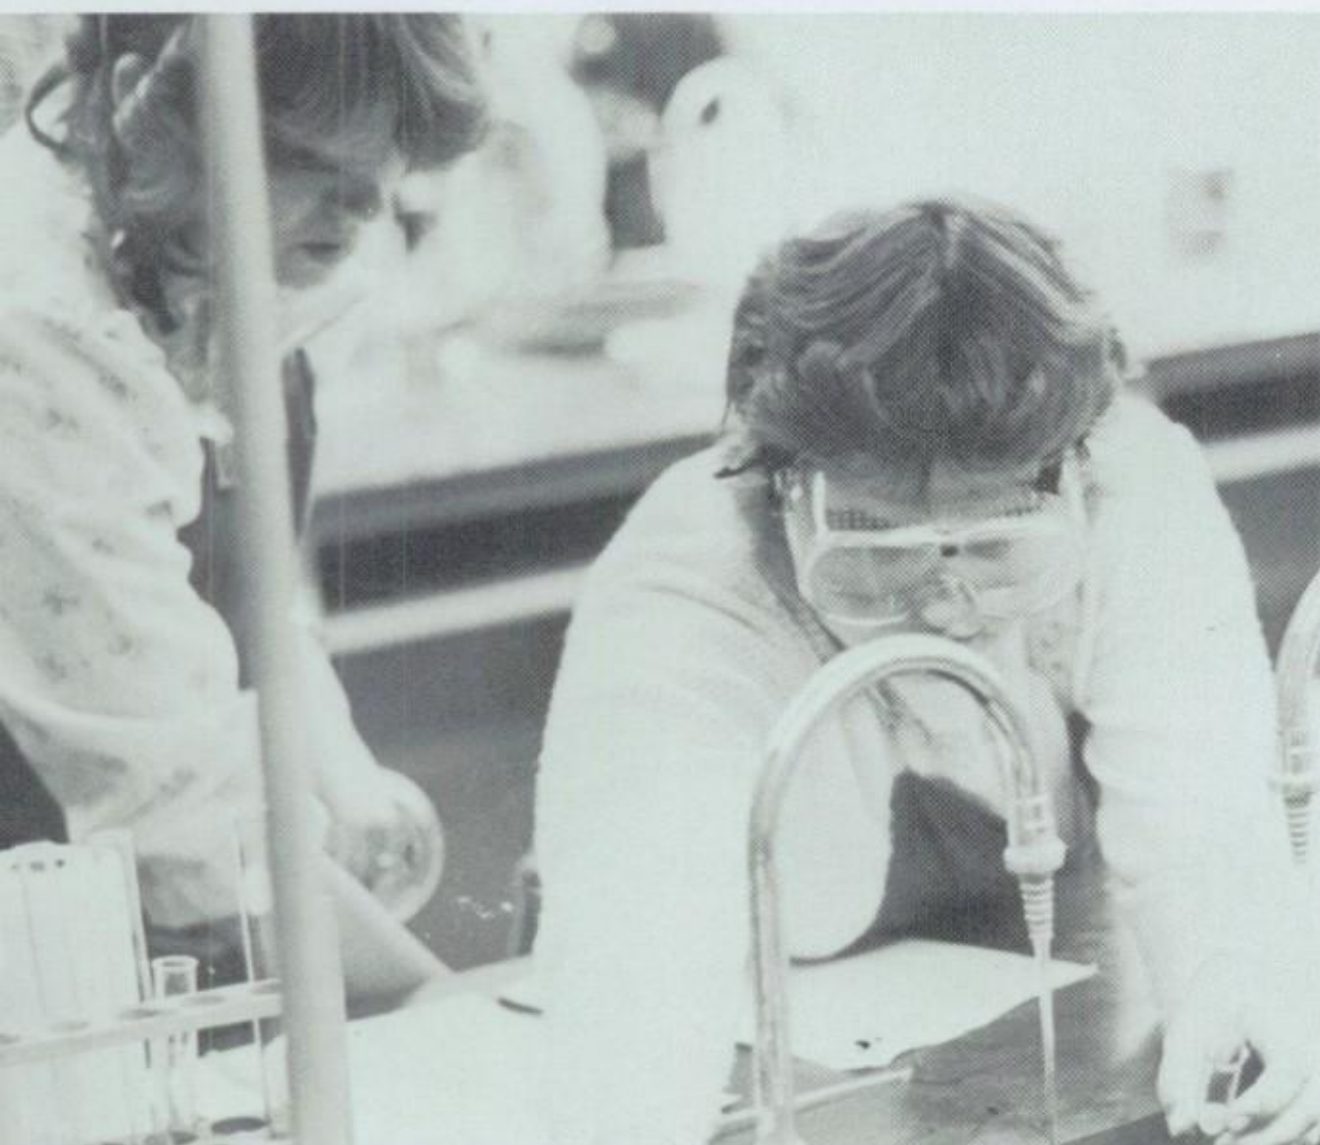

TOP: In determining the frequency of the wavelengths, Brian Van Dootting and John Clark count the crests.

ABOVE: In Biology II Dan Obermiller dissects a fetal pig.

Social studies courses cover world affairs, job market

Social science students were offered a wide variety of courses ranging from economics to everyone's favorite, American government.

American history and government classes were visited by Mrs. Angel Bradley from Mansfield Business College. She told of proper business dress and conduct when being interviewed for a job.

Psychology and sociology classes were big favorites as games were played determining emotion and craziness. Sociology students discussed interactions with individuals.

TOP: Government teacher Mr. A.J. Esbenschade points out a helpful hint to Kelly Downing in her tax booklet.

ABOVE RIGHT: A discussion on business conduct and dress was given by Mrs. Angel Bradley to government and history classes.

RIGHT: Juniors in American history take notes for an upcoming test on World War II.

Students master their languages

Added to the flourishing French Department was a Spanish division. French and Spanish students struggled with conjugating verbs and translating dialogues.

Helping students overcome the fear of speaking in front of a crowd and developing better speech habits were the objectives of oral communications.

Reading enrichment, practical communications, study skills and Business English helped students to interpret through reading, improve everyday conversation and develop better study habits.

TOP: In English III, juniors review for a literature test.

Art students strive to improve talents through concern

"The thing that most impressed me was the fact that students were so concerned with their work," said Mr. James Wiles, art instructor. He was pleased with the job the students did on the following projects: Stipple, or drawing with dots, ceramics, batik-ing, and designs made by dyeing fabric with wax. Copper enameling was another technique he was glad to see the students try.

Math: lesson well learned

Mathematics—a process of trial and error, deductive thinking and at times true determination. “There should be more emphasis placed on math” is the unanimous statement made by Mrs. Marilyn Knechtges, Miss Marilyn Spear, and Mr. Jim Hagameyer. The teachers also feel that arithmetic will be a very important part of the future.

Seniors produce 'rogue action' before their time

Each new senior class begins a new trend for which it will be remembered. The Class of '82 produced 'rogue' and 'rogue action,' the latter of which in some cases was used on seniors. To rogue on someone is to pick on him, or harass. Being a senior is a unique experience that everyone will enjoy looking forward to. On behalf of the 1982 Senior Class, we wish all up-coming seniors best of luck.

Plan

Graduation preparation occupies time for seniors

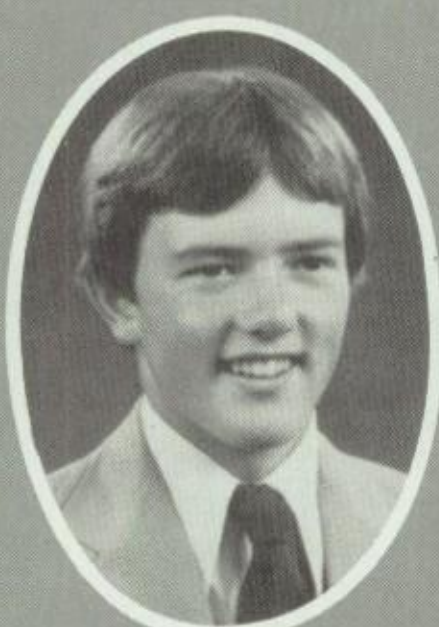

As graduation draws near, seniors have a menagerie of tasks to complete. Ordering grade transcripts for college from Mr. Rice and having check-out papers signed occupy school hours. At home, a senior spends time mailing invitations and announcements and cramming for that important final exam.

As graduation draws near, the seniors tentatively try on their caps and gowns.

Seniors take some time for goofing around at school

Is school starting to get you down? Well, then talk to a senior or watch some of their antics! They always seem to be up to something, whether it's stealing Pinky, Mr. Esbenshade's flamingo, or just plain goofing around.

Most seniors seem to agree that government class is one of their favorite places to goof-off. They always seem to have something planned for Mr. Esbenshade.

By the time his senior year is reached, everyone deserves some time to goof-off and the seniors do it well!

Faculty defeats Seniors in annual senior-faculty game

Well, seniors, you didn't break the tradition. The faculty, once again, came out on top with a final score of 65-47. The seniors made a tremendous effort during the second half, but it just wasn't enough.

A lot of action, fun and laughs could be an overall view of this annual game. Senior girls, dressed in unique outfits, provided some of the fun and laughter along with cheering their team on. Senior coaches Jeff Hoffman and Don Starbuck gave the team confidence and their own knowledge of the game.

Seniors rush to check out on last day of school

The last day of school marked the end of a twelve year period of listening, reading and writing for a grade. From that day on, such activities will be done for enrichment, profit or notoriety. Besides taking exams, seniors rushed to have check-out forms signed, lockers cleaned, bills paid and caps and gowns picked up while giving teachers their last taste of '82 senior punishment.

Junior Class has unity, gets prom preparations underway

Besides getting that ever-important date, there are planning committees, decorating committees, food committees and money-making projects to get underway before the prom. These are preparations known to all juniors. The class held the traditional chicken barbecue and sold wrapping paper to raise money for the prom.

Thinking about college, taking college-prep courses and deciding on future plans are also prevalent in a junior's mind.

Sophomores show maturity

Maturity and decisions, qualities that many sophomores have obtained throughout the year, are just the beginning to what lies ahead for them.

Aside from choosing class rings, there is also the decision to attend Eho or remain at Western. As for maturity, the many hours of work that went toward receiving their driver's licenses and the mounting spirit shown during class activities was a big factor in being a sophomore.

Frosh begin final journey to maturity

As the freshmen begin their final journey, they are reminded that there are only four short years left before they step into the real world; just ask any senior how fast the time goes.

A feeling of inferiority accompanies a freshman when he enters high school, but being able to choose one's classes gives him that self-assuredness he needs.

People, skills form EHOVE

Spending a day on the EHOVE campus is comparative to spending a day on a college campus.

Freedom and openness go hand-in-hand with learning in each of the various shops. Whether the class is commercial arts or welding, friendliness is a way of life.

The classroom work involves government classes for the seniors; English and American history for the juniors.

The bookwork, known as "related," adds a more technical aspect to the hands-on-experience that makes EHOVE the vocational school it is.

Riding toward competition

Striders post first wins

After a first season of trial and disappointment, Coach David Rice was very optimistic. During his second season, Coach Rice worked to condition his younger runners for the conference meet in New London. The team finished at 3-16 in duals, last in the conference, and fourteenth out of seventeen teams at sectionals.

For the year, the team won at Danbury, 27-28, and at home vs. South Amherst, 24-35, for the first two wins in the team's history. Jim Auman was selected most improved and Bob Kay, most valuable. The best time for 1981 was turned in by Bob Kay against South Amherst.

Riders end with 23-1 record, become regional runners-up

For the second year in a row, the volleyball team became regional runners-up. Coach Marilyn Knechtges states, "It's quite an achievement to do it twice in a row. It's harder the second time because you have the pressures of following in the footsteps of last year's team."

The Riders repeated their conference title by defeating Edison and were given a police and fire truck escort home.

Numerous other honors were given to the coach and her team including flowers, #1 charms, and a dinner from some of their loyal fans.

JV's season ends 13-2

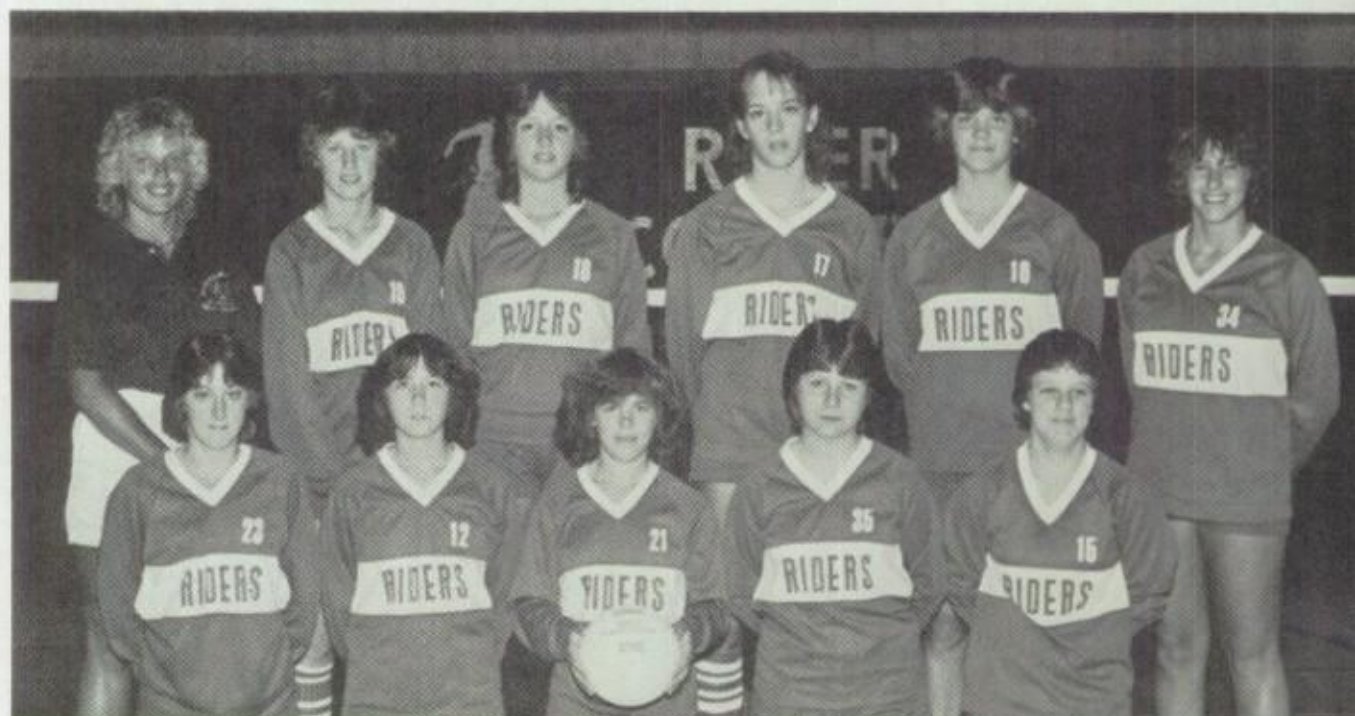

"Oh, nuts!" One might find this quote quite familiar if he attended any JV volleyball games this year. One also has to be cautious of flying arms, both characteristics belonging to the JV coach, Kathy Nickles, who tended to get a little bit excited when the pressure was on.

The JV's wrapped up the season with an overall record of 13-2. Coach Nickles and the JV team were pleased with the successful season.

Football cheerleaders show much spirit in various activities

When one thinks of cheerleading, what first comes to mind—cheering, acrobats, painting signs, performing skits, making scrapbooks, baking cookies, jumping and screaming? There are many tasks a cheerleader must perform.

The varsity squad, under the new adviser Miss Marilyn Spear, attended a camp at Ashland College and two clinics. The group was rated outstanding at the Northwood High Clinic and received a second place trophy at the Ashland clinic. The JV's also attended the Ashland clinic.

Cheerleaders held a dinner and swimming party for the team.

Varsity football team goes 4-4-2 despite injuries

Injuries plagued the Rider ironmen throughout the season as it was a rare occasion when the Riders took the field with everyone healthy. Despite the injuries the Riders posted a respectable 4-4-2 record.

The Riders also put four people on the All-Conference team with Jerry Perkins leading the way as the first team quarterback selection. The "Blue Death" defense also was made famous to enemy teams.

Junior Varsity receives more playing time, gains experience

Coached by Mr. Chris Scheck and Mr. Larry Burkett, a 1981 graduate of WR, the jayvee and freshman teams completed their second season as a combined squad.

The JV's were divided into two teams to provide more playing time for other players.

Playing JV gives the underclassmen experience and gives the coaches a closer look at the player's potential. Toward the end of the injury-prone season for the varsity, players were brought up to replace some of the injured and to get a look at varsity action.

Riders clinch conference, sectional titles with 20-2 record

Having completed its best season ever, with a 20-2 record, the Lady Riders, coached by Mr. John Speer, won the Firelands Conference Championship and the sectional championship but were defeated by Buckeye Central in a 50-51 heart-breaking loss.

The Riders defeated Edison for the conference title and were escorted home by a Collins fire truck driven by Bert Fannin.

The Lady Riders easily defeated South Central and St. Paul to claim the sectional title, but difficulty was found in the first round of district play as they dropped a one point decision during the last nine seconds to Buckeye Central.

Complimented for their efforts were Vicki Molesky, first team All Firelands Conference and first team district 6; Kim Hipp and Ann Knoll, Second Team All Conference; and Karin Fraelich, Honorable Mention.

Junior Varsity makes history with perfect season

Despite being slightly overshadowed by the championship varsity team, the jayvees followed in the footsteps of the veterans and went on to complete the season undefeated with a perfect record of 19-0.

Led by second year coach Kathy Nickels, the jayvees sported the best junior varsity record in Western history.

Cheerleaders show spirit

Cheering isn't the only responsibility of cheerleaders. The varsity squad teaches the underclassmen how to plan a pep assembly from the first cheer until the final skit.

Cheerleading also involves making locker decorations and inventing lyrics to popular songs to be used in the skits.

Cheerleading season doesn't stop at the end of basketball season because there are still try outs and camp to consider.

Matmaids keep spirit alive

Matmaids? What exactly are they? They are a combination of cheerleader, statistician, fundraiser and some-time care-taker. This year the Firelands Conference was once again held here, and the matmaids were right there helping to keep things organized. They ran concessions, timed matches, kept official scores and clock time and even mopped mats.

At the banquet sophomore matmaids presented the senior matmaids with roses. Allision Bonner, Teri McClave and Jo-Dee Palmer received trophies for their four-year participation as matmaids.

Wrestlers send one to state

Wrestling requires endurance. During the four-month season, the team attended all-day invitationals, hosted the conference meet and braved the one-on-one sport that demands so much from anyone who attempts to tackle it.

At conference seven men placed: Chris Munroe, first; Bill Mack, Matt McCurdy and Kelly Lasch, second; Randy Pelham, Karl Wilson and Dan Obermiller, fourth. Lasch and McCurdy wrestled on the district level with Lasch advancing to the state AA tournament.

Relay team sets new records at New London, districts

The girls' track team braved all types of weather from snowstorms to heat spells. Even with all the bad weather, the team finished with a 6-4 record.

"I was pleased with the team's performance, although I felt it could have done a little better early in the season," stated Coach Barry Pickens. The team set several new records this year: Karen Fraelich in the discus, Kim Krupp in the shot put, and Tammy Graves, Wendy Stoll, Kim Krupp and Diane Talbott in the 3200 meter relay.

The 3200 meter relay team placed first in the conference meet. It also took first place at districts and New London Relays where the team set new records. Both the 3200 meter relay and 1600 meter relay teams placed 6th at regional finals.

JV's prove it can be done

Finishing with a 7-4 record, the JV baseball team accomplished something that nobody thought it would — winning a game.

"I'm proud of this group of young men," stated Coach Al Todd. "We had two guys hit over .500 and four boys hit just shy of this mark; two were freshmen," Todd also noted.

Beating Edison and an undefeated Mapleton were high points for the season despite having inexperienced pitchers.

Graduation: It's not just an end, but a new beginning

The long-awaited day finally arrived for the Class of 1982. June 6, 1982, was a day of mixed emotions.

The past twelve years have been full of good friends and memories. There were the teachers everyone loved and those everyone survived.

This part of life is now over and it's time to look toward the future. There will be many more good times and many bad ones as well. It's time to ride toward the new and exciting challenges of life.

TOP RIGHT: While waiting in the receiving line, John Clark, Jimm Todd and Mark Graves decide to relax and to enjoy themselves now that it's all over.

CENTER: As the band plays "Pomp and Circumstance," the seniors walk to their seats to begin the ceremony.

FAR LEFT: "I Dare You" was the topic of the address given by the Reverend Richard Harper, minister of the W. Hartland and Collins Methodist Church.

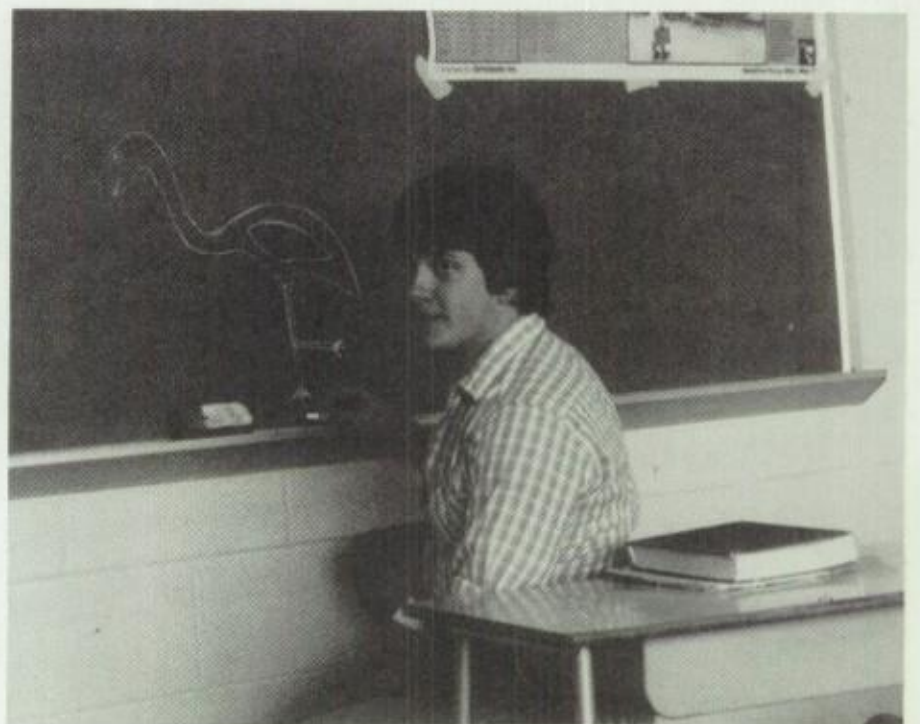

ABOVE: After being seated, seniors take a minute to look through the program to find out what's going to happen next.

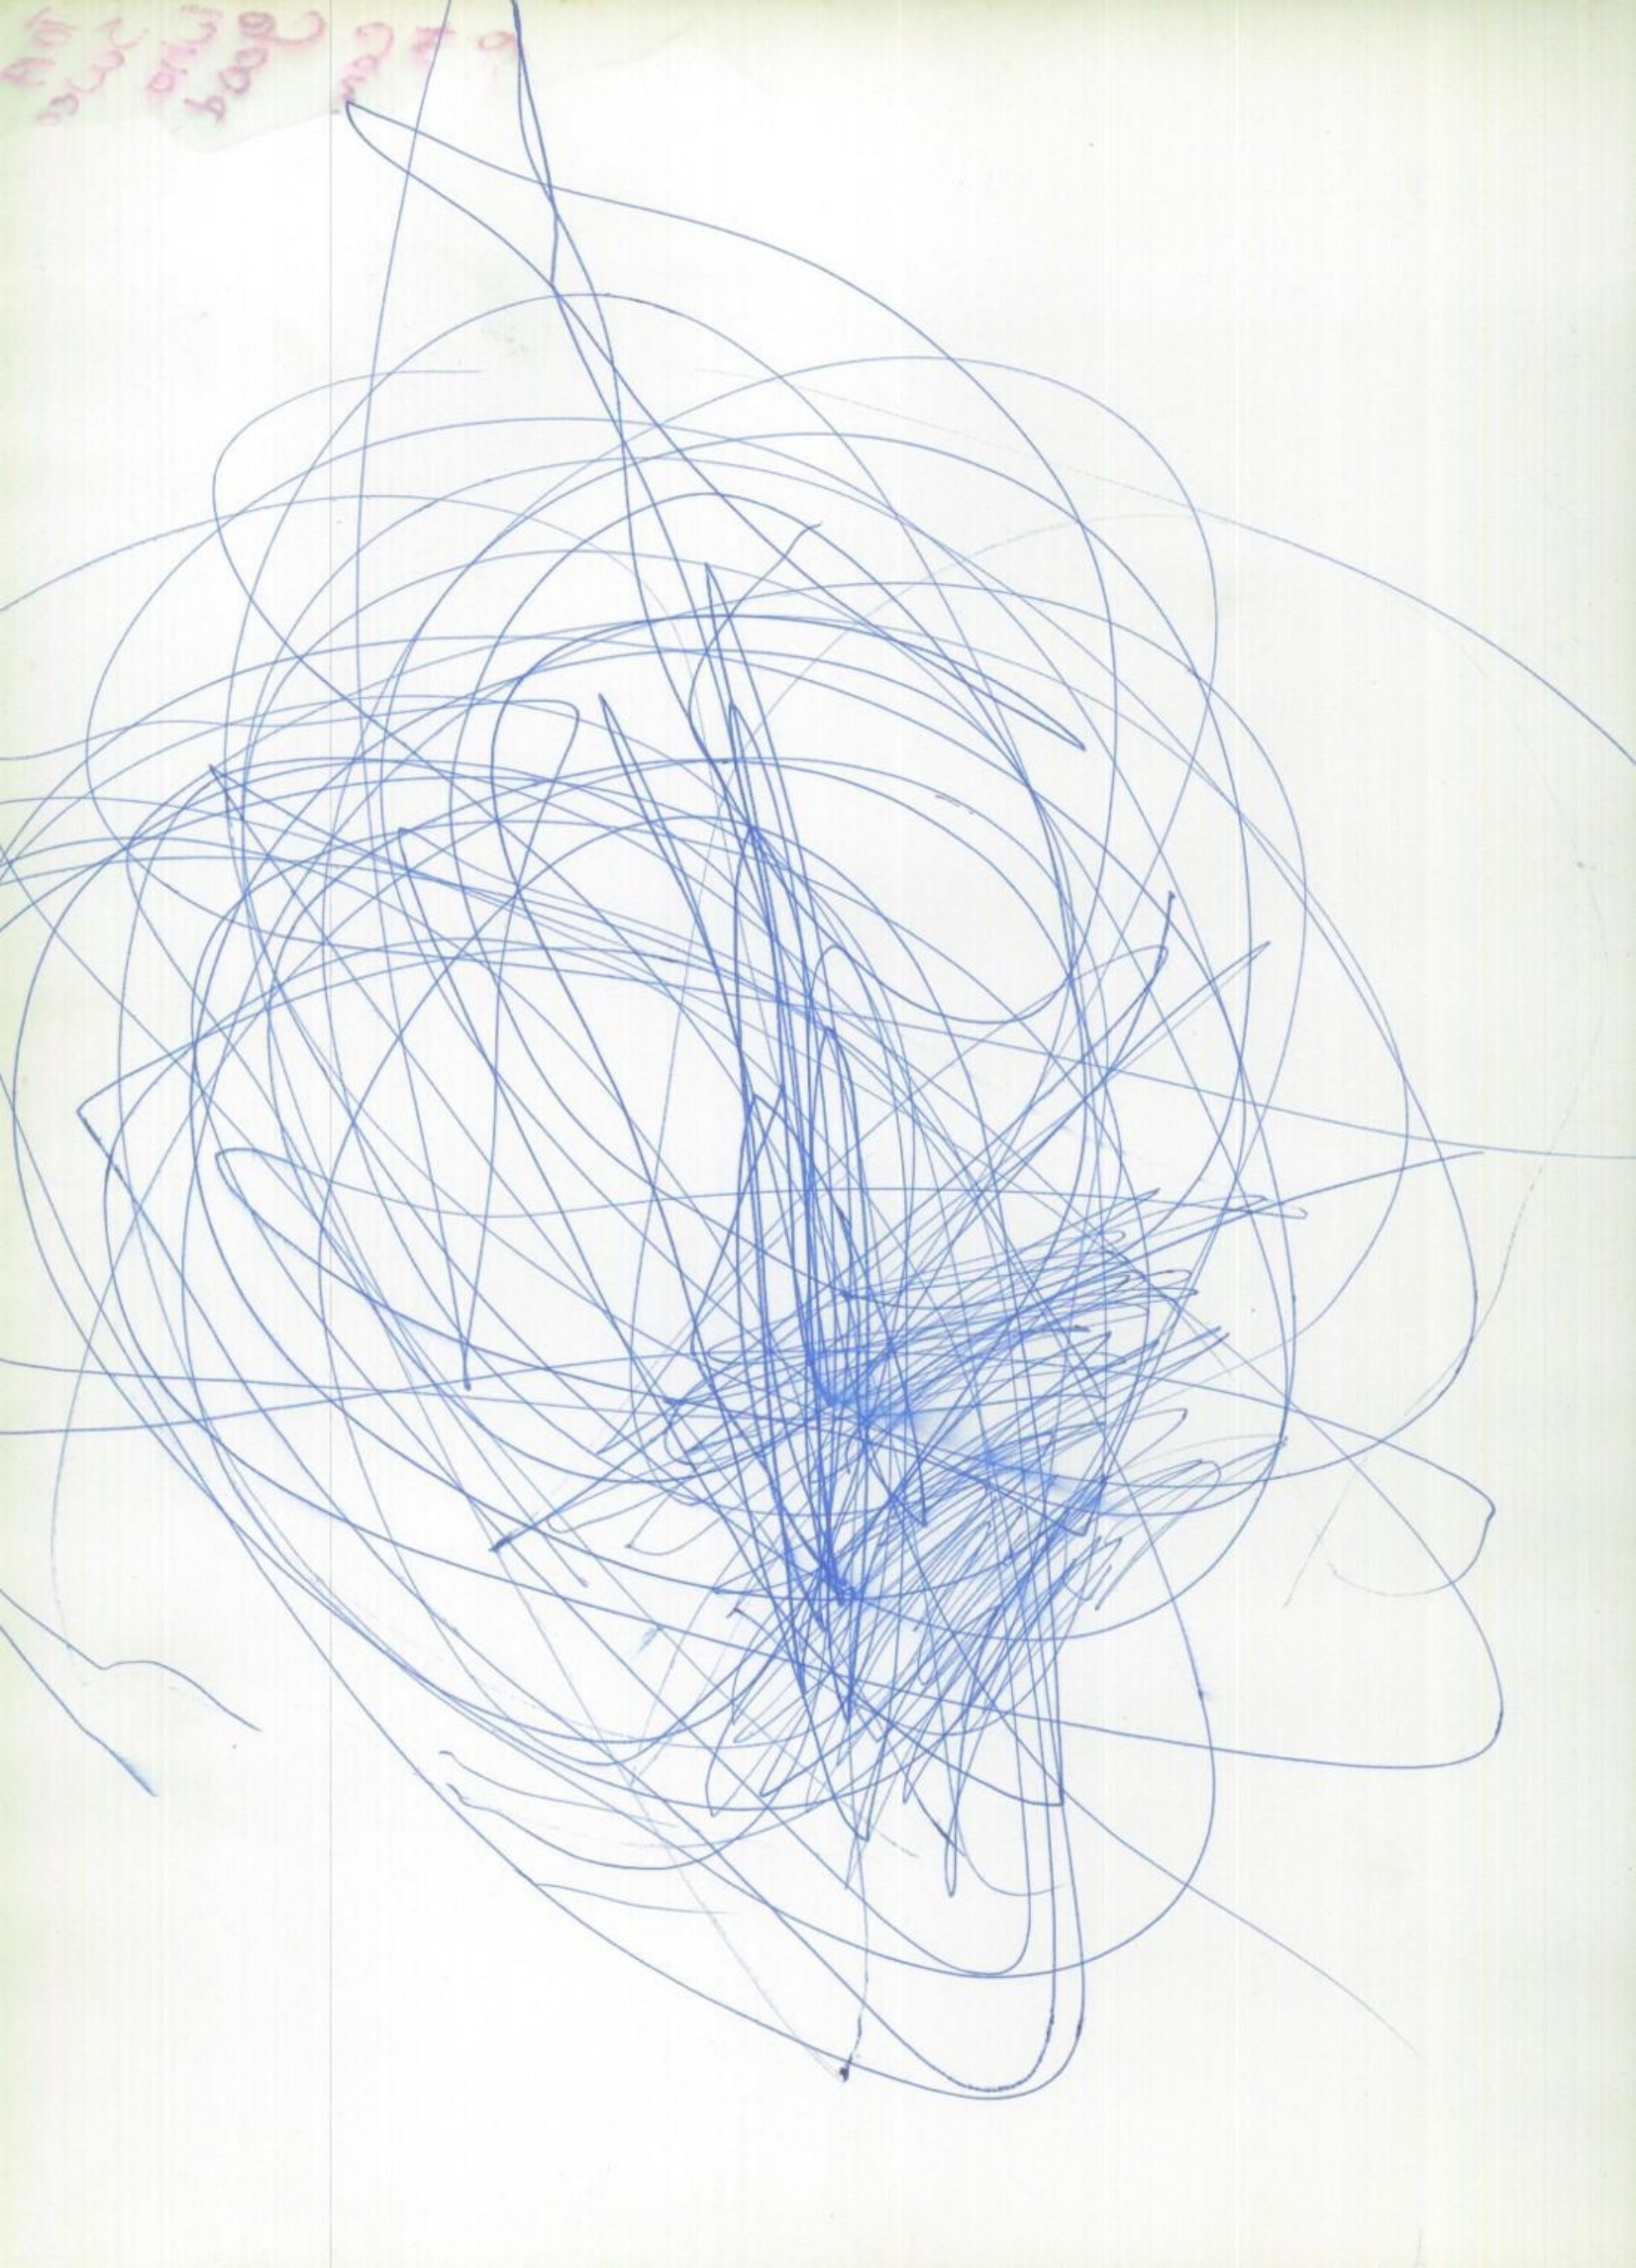

LEFT: The expressions on the faces of Jeff Hoffman and Martin Clouse show signs of relief after having received their diplomas and roses.

Reflect

As wonderful as school days are,
So full of fun and
laughter,
The best and richest times you'll know
Will come a few years after . . .
Walk proudly as you
move along,
Feel young and strong and free,
And let your heart
repeat these words-
"The best is yet to be!"

To A friend person or not to be with sweat over to let be with who friend the best good I hope you like down
can get things
to carry things

CURRENT EVENTS

HISTORY-MAKING FLIGHT — The space shuttle "Columbia" made history by becoming the first manned space vehicle ever to return to orbit. The shuttle's two missions opened up new possibilities for future space travel.

PEACE RALLIES — The largest demonstration in Bonn, West Germany's history was a mass peace rally attended by about 200,000 people. It was indicative of the pacifist and antinuclear movement that swept Europe.

DERBY WINNER — Pleasant Colony won the 107th Kentucky Derby from a huge field of 21 horses. The jockey was Jorge Velasquez.

40th PRESIDENT — Ronald Reagan, former movie star and governor of California, was sworn in as President of the United States, becoming the oldest man ever to hold that office. His conservative viewpoints marked a change from the previous Carter administration.

CABINET CONTROVERSY — President Reagan's controversial and aggressive Secretary of State, Alexander Haig, was chastened for lack of team play early in the Reagan administration.

FIRST WOMAN ON THE COURT — Sandra Day O'Connor became the first woman member of the U.S. Supreme Court. She is a lawyer and a former Arizona state senator.

McENROE WINS — John McEnroe defeated Bjorn Borg for the Wimbledon title. During the year, his on-court tennis behavior earned him the title of "Super Brat."

CALIFORNIA GOLD — Only two years after leading the NFL in losses, the San Francisco 49'ers led the league in victories and won the Super Bowl by defeating Cincinnati.

HOTEL DISASTER — Suspended walkways covered with people collapsed into the crowded lobby of the Hyatt Regency Hotel in Kansas City, killing 113 persons.

EGYPT'S SADAT KILLED — Egyptian President Anwar Sadat, the only Arab leader to make peace with the Jewish state, was assassinated by a group of army men as he viewed a military parade in Cairo.

ASSASSINATION ATTEMPT — President Reagan survived an attempt on his life when he was shot outside a hotel as he waved to the crowd. John Hinckley, Jr., was charged with shooting the President and three others.

INDY 500 - In a mass of controversy, the Indy 500 victory went first to Bobby Unser, then Mario Andretti (shown here) then back to Unser.

RUBIK'S CUBE CRAZE - James Nourse devised and published a solution to the Rubik's Cube invented by Hungarian professor Ernő Rubik.
